Hello Hoffman Estates Jaycees!

This month I wanted to share a story with everyone that one reply was discussed in one the training we had a work recently:

The Law Of The Garbage Truck

One day I hopped in a taxi and we took off for the airport. We were driving in the right lane when suddenly a black car jumped out of a parking space right in front of us. My taxi driver slammed on his brakes, skidded, and missed the other car by just inches! The driver of the other car whipped his head around and started yelling at us. My taxi driver just smiled and waved at the guy. And I mean, he was really friendly.

So I asked, 'Why did you just do that? This guy almost ruined your car and sent us to the hospital!' This is when my taxi driver taught me what I now call, 'The Law of the Garbage Truck.'

He explained that many people are like garbage trucks. They run around full of garbage, full of frustration, full of anger, and full of disappointment, broken hearted, sick. As their garbage piles up, they need a place to dump it and sometimes they'll dump it on you. Don't take it personally.

Just smile, wave, wish them well, and move on. Don't take their garbage and spread it to other people at work, at home, or on the streets.

The bottom line is that successful people do not let garbage trucks take over their day. Life's too short to wake up in the morning with regrets, so Love the people who treat you right. Pray for the ones who don't. Life is ten percent what you make it and ninety percent how you take it!

Have a blessed, garbage-free day, and remember-

Were all in this together. We as individual members can do great things if we set our minds to! Don't get caught up in the little details- Just know collectively as members we can continue the success of the chapter we as member throughout the rest of the year!

Guilty Pleasure – I Saw It... Did You?

O.k. I admit it. I watched as William and Kate got married. Me and 2 billion other people that is. Did you see it?

What did you think? Did you like her dress?

And the hats?

How can you not love the British and their hats?

I gotta say, in my opinion, it was actually a very nice wedding.

In the greater scheme of things though, it's really what a lot of people needed right now.

As some of you know, I'm a big believer of the Law of Attraction. And as the Law says, things of the same frequency tend to gravitate towards each other. And wow! Over 1 million people gravitated towards the Church of England, Westminster Abbey and Buckingham Palace to watch as two young individuals shared their love and joy to the rest of the world. The energy radiating from that location was absolutely amazing! And while our hearts go out to those in Alabama and the south, those in Afghanistan, Syria, and a myriad of other countries where individuals were fighting for their survival, the beauty that radiated from the little Island of England made the world a better place – if not just for a moment of time. It was truly historic.

And while most people felt the energy radiating from the wedding, did you happen to really notice how that energy affected the area?

When you think about that immediate area, it's kind of amazing. For days, the meteorologists and weather forecasters all said that it was going to rain. Some even said that there were going to be major thunderstorms. And yet, did you notice what really happened?

For days, people camped out in front of the wedding location.

And then on the day of the wedding, it was overcast and no rain in sight. Coincidence or just positive energy keeping the rain away? Keep on reading...

At 11:00 am London time, the beautiful bride to be stepped out of the car ready to walk into the Church of England. And as she did so, the clouds broke and the Sun peered through as if shining a spotlight on her right on cue. The media announcers were giggling with joy as they made this announcement. Coincidence or just positive energy again? Keep on reading...

As the ceremony ended, the new Duke and Duchess of Cambridge got into their horse drawn chariot (the same one that William's parents rode almost 30 years ago) and headed towards Buckingham Palace surrounded by joyous, happy people who were all clamoring to get a glimpse of the Royal couple as they made their way to the notorious balcony and the infamous first kiss.

Once again, no rain, spots of sunshine throughout and hundreds of thousands of happy, excited people.

It's as if the Universe knew not to spoil this wondrous day for anyone.

At the Palace, the happy couple made history with not just one kiss, but two kisses, creating a massive ripple of joy, excitement, and happiness throughout the crowd. You could hear the roar of approval as this happy couple embraced their people and gave them what they wanted. There were still no rain drops although there were water droplets coming from the tears in the crowd – tears of joy, happiness, and excitement.

And then all too soon, the happy couple drove off in a convertible (with the top down of course) Aston Martin, once again, showing the people that this is going to be a monarchy for the people, uniting tradition with modern times. It was truly a beautiful, historic day... and it wasn't over yet.

Later that evening, the bride, groom, and wedding party now in a change of outfit headed towards the reception. Kate in a beautiful, simple gown made by the same designer as her wedding dress. William, handsome in his tuxedo.

And once they were inside, the diehards, the people who stayed around to catch one final glimpse of the Royal couple, finally left and then do you know what happened? Yes, that's right, it poured.

It started raining – and hard – again, as if right on cue. As if the Universe knew, “Hey, the party’s inside now. It’s o.k. to rain.”
Again, I ask, coincidence or positive energy?

It started raining – and hard – again, as if right on cue. As if the Universe knew, “Hey, the party’s inside now. It’s o.k. to rain.”
Again, I ask, coincidence or positive energy?

Did everyone watching somehow attract a seemingly perfect day for this wedding to occur?

I guess the answer really lies with what you believe. I for one don't believe in coincidence. I believe that everything happens for a reason. I may not understand why something is happening and I know it's happening for a reason.

Think about it though, what can the collective energy of over 1 million people at one location or over 2 billion people worldwide accomplish?

It's amazing to even think about it. Over 2 billion people united in one moment of time. How incredible is that? Imagine what else we can do if we united like this for the greater good more often. Imagine what we can accomplish.

Imagine what you could accomplish if you could gather around yourself a group of like-minded individuals. Maybe not 2 billion people and how about several thousand? Several hundred thousand? Several million? A group like the Jaycees?

Ester Hicks, Author of The Law Of Attraction, just had an event in mid April. It was the first time she streamed it live across the world. She had individuals from 6 continents, 44 countries and 46 US states all watching her event. After she got off the stage, here's what she said, “As we came off the stage at the end of the seminar I said to Abraham, “What WAS that?” Abraham said, That was the feeling of global consciousness focused simultaneous in one moment in time. That was the benefit of large numbers of people focused together, in the absence of resistance, taking thought beyond what it has been before. That was co-creating at it's best.”

So yes, I'm guilty. I watched the Royal Wedding – and I enjoyed it. I watched co-creating the perfect day, the perfect wedding, the perfect moment in time, at its best.

Did you?

Relay For Life

Date: June 17-18

Place: Prairie Stone Sports and Wellness Center
550 Sedge Boulevard Hoffman Estates, IL

Time: Camp set up 4:30 pm

Registration: 4:30pm-6:00 pm

Opening Ceremony: 6:00 pm

Luminaria Ceremony: Dusk

Closing Ceremony: 6:00 am

The American Cancer Society Relay for life is a unique, challenging and fun way to raise money from the cancer research and increase awareness of services available to cancer patients, their families and our communities.

The event will be held at the Eisenhower Park where teams of 10-15 people from corporations, hospitals, civic groups and families take turns in the relay. At least one team member at a time must walk, jog or run around the track for a scheduled period of time. Each team captain coordinates the team schedule.

The event begins on Friday afternoon at 4:30 pm with the set of campsites and fun filled activities. The American Cancer Society Relay for Life begins at 6:00 pm with opening ceremony and the cancer survivor's lap. Teams begin walking after the cancer survivor's lap and continue throughout the event. At dusk, a candlelight luminaria ceremony is held to honor cancer survivors and to remember those who lost the battle against cancer. The ceremony is open to the public and attendees do not have to on a relay team to enjoy this part of the American Cancer Society Relay for Life. The luminaria ceremony is the soul of the event.

It's about the community that takes up the fight!

GREAT CONVENTION PLANNED SO MUCH TO DO, SO MUCH TO SEE

The U.S. Jaycees National Convention is being held June 8-12th at the Wyndham Hotel Lisle-Chicago in Lisle, Illinois. Downtown Chicago is approximately 25 minutes from Lisle and is accessible by the Metra train station within 1 mile of the hotel.

Chicago is the third largest city in the U.S. and has one of the best skylines. Come a few days early or stay a few days after the convention to enjoy this great town full of museums, sites, shopping and so much more.

Never been to a convention? Once you attend, you won't want to miss another one.

The U.S. Jaycee national convention provides an opportunity to meet Jaycees from all over the country, attend great training, participate in the elections for next year's executive officers, be inspired by the Ten Outstanding Young American's award ceremony and of course have fun at all the parties.

Come early to the convention to attend JCI Designer, JCI Trainer or JCI Presenter or enjoy Chicago and all that it has to offer.

The convention starts on Wednesday morning, June 8th for those participating in competitions. That evening, we will kickoff the convention with the Welcome to Chicago party. It is sure to be a great time and give everyone a taste of Chicago.

On Thursday, The U.S. Jaycees 2010 executive team will present awards to individuals and chapters for the 2010 year. There will also be 2012 NVP and Presidential candidate nominations and introductions. The OnTo Des Moines Party hosted by the Iowa Jaycees will take place Thursday evening.

On Friday morning, the 2011 executive team will conduct the corporate annual meeting to review any business as well as hold the election for the 2012 National officers.

Starting Friday afternoon and continuing through Saturday, convention attendees will have the opportunity to attend a diverse selection of both Jaycee and non-Jaycee trainings. In addition, JCI Networking and JCI CSR will each be offered.

On Friday evening, The U.S. JCI Senate is hosting a picnic in the park for the Jaycees and afterwards, attendees can enjoy the rest of their evening either heading downtown to experience Chicago and its free Blues Festival or stay nearby and enjoy downtown Naperville.

Finally, The Ten Outstanding Young Americans award ceremony will take place Saturday evening, June 11th. The convention wraps up with the final social after the TOYA awards on Saturday evening.

You will not want to miss this convention. It is going to be a great time. Register today to come to the U.S. Jaycee National Convention.

The Jaycee Creed

We Believe:

That faith in God gives meaning and purpose to human life; That the brotherhood of man transcends the sovereignty of nations; That economic justice can best be won by free men through free enterprise; That government should be of laws, rather than of men; That earth's great treasure lies in human personality; And that service to humanity is the best work of life.
